

STYLE | FASHION | SOCIAL

Paperercity

HOUSTON NOVEMBER 2008

We're Giving Thanks for...

Jackson Hicks
Anyone named de Menil

ALSO

The Color Peacock

Small-Batch Watches | Cocktail Baubles | Fowl Play

New Doors

The leaves have turned, our closets are bursting with holiday surprises, and the streets are lined with shops popping up like popcorn.

Be-jewel

2402-A Rice Blvd., 713.526.3561; bejewel-houston.com

Owner Terry Webre:

What's on the Rack: You may have noticed a stylish little shop called Be-jewel when tooling down South Shepherd with the top down. Now Terry Webre has upped her foot-traffic options with a move to a 1,600-square-foot boutique in Rice Village.

The look is a bohemian-meets-urban influences, with plenty of Webre's signature purple. Inside, you'll find the season's plaid patterns, skinny jeans, asymmetrical cuts — from Ken Okada, Cécile Jeffrey, Rachel Roy, Runholtz and Judda Nordheim. Be-jewel has Houston exclusives from Copenhagen's Ivan Grundahl and Iceland-based ELM Design. Jewelry offerings include the Monies collection: one-of-a-kind pieces made with stone, jade, wood, bone and amber that take the chunky-jewelry concept to a whole new level. Jennifer Ban